SAINT MICHAEL'S PLAYHOUSE ★ 2007 SUMMER SEASON

INTO THE WOODS

The Tony Award-winning Broadway musical about fairy tale characters and what happens after "...happily ever after." Sondheim's sumptuous score and sparkling lyrics weave a magical tale about our deepest wishes, secret dreams, and the journey into the dark woods before we reach the light. Funny, poignant and ultimately enchanting, INTO THE WOODS is appropriate for adults and older children.

CHANGING THE DIAL

I personally found "This and That" (May 28) to be a great piece of commentary regarding the constant updates Rex Pugh is bringing to light the working and living conditions of these workers. "We want to see the most about the workers' democracy and the most about the working class" is the major message here. I personally find it disheartening that the workers' group may be taking a step back in its efforts to defend the workers' right to a fair wage. I hope the other workers who are taking the same step will be able to find a way to continue the fight.

Furthermore, on the subject of being Chinese wages, people might also want to consider the fact that they think they are getting at least 10% of the best workers' wages. These workers are in charge of the most important jobs in the world. They are the ones who are making the world a better place. We will eventually pay for these workers in the form of pollution cleanup around the globe. Hopefully the people of both China and America will work together to make the world a better place. We will eventually pay for these workers in the form of pollution cleanup around the globe.

James Hays, they would even want to see the best workers' wages. I hope the other workers who are taking the same step will be able to find a way to continue the fight. I hope the other workers who are taking the same step will be able to find a way to continue the fight.

GETTIN' DOWN WITH DAN CYRESS

My dream vacation would have to most likely be the Colorado.

My favorite beach place has to be the Blue Hole in Florida.

If I had $100,000 to spend, I would buy... a house on the 1/2 acreage with a lot of trees.

Something I would like to do, but haven't had the chance... travel
all of the great places in the world.

My technical responsibilities are generally to... my computer policy team.

My favorite hobby is... listening to, talking about and working with live music.

The best book I read was... the Art of Happiness by the Dalai Lama.

Before I was a brother, one of my favorite things was... that I was a great guy at school.

The best piece of real estate I bought was... a charming house in the Hudson Valley.

My most prized possession is...
my record collection.

On a Sunday morning you will most likely find me... sitting on the grass.

One thing people are surprised to find out about me is... that I like old country music.

KEVIN SMILLA

"Seven Days is one of the links in my routine. On Wednesday I look at the website before I pick up a copy of Seven, in the meantime I find a bunch and of famous part of my family. I usually read the paper through every, taking as much of the reader's opinion about it as I can. I always check the 'View' — you know, always online. I like it because I can get it right to the top of the article. I know it's hard to read. During the week of I'm planning an evening out. I'll go online to find out what songs are playing, check the movie listings. I buy my copy of Seven Days — and I get the new one."

If you want to get in more good words about one of your fave local spots, have your choice. Submit a separate page of paper and make your case. Be sure to include your name, phone number and email address (if applicable). While your recommendation will change the money world, none of those comments will be published in the Seven, not on August 1, and you'll be eligible to win $5,000 in the Super Reader contest on August 31.

And there's a reason not to outsource: "When the numbers, month to month, are not great, it's better to have a lot more on the line," says Korman. "When the numbers are big, prices can peak at $37 or $41. That tends to drive out contractors, and you have more in-flight manufacturing." Animal Magnetism

The Galleries Art Center offers high-quality art for the most avid collectors in the form of a playful, all-aroundable new creation, "Carnot" (also known as "Carnot") by Marc Chagall. The 100-year-old artist, who died in 1985, is known for his vibrant, expressive style. In this work, Chagall's signature style is evident in the use of bold, expressive colors and a focus on movement. The painting features a central, dark, stylized figure with long, flowing limbs, set against a background of bold, expressive colors like red, yellow, and green. The style is characteristic of Chagall's work, with a focus on color and movement.

The Nonstop Party

BY DAVID THOMAS

Having reached its eighth incarnation, "Mario Party" has cemented its role of video-game party animal by being truly on top of the party. When you're in the middle of something, you no longer feel like a participant in the magical ritual; you're contributing to a magical force.

It's a tradition that began with "Mario Party" and has continued to the present day. The game's first two titles, in 1996 and 1997, were the first of a new breed of party game. They were the first to be on the market, and they were the first to be on the market.

They were the first to be on the market, and they were the first to be on the market. They were the first to be on the market, and they were the first to be on the market.

And that's the reason why it's so popular. It's a game that's been around for a long time, and it's still going strong. It's a game that's been around for a long time, and it's still going strong.

Many studies have shown that non-verbal aspects of communication, such as facial expressions, body posture, and eye contact, are important in conveying information. In this study, we examined the effects of non-verbal cues on the perception of trustworthiness. We found that individuals who displayed non-verbal cues associated with trustworthiness (e.g., smiling, open posture) were perceived as more trustworthy than those who displayed non-verbal cues associated with distrustworthiness (e.g., frowning, closed posture). These findings have implications for various fields, including psychology, communication, and social interactions.
